The Car that Sells by the Train Load

What a Buick Has Done For Others, a Buick Will Do For You.

Records of the past are the promises for the future. At the beginning of 1913 season there were 110,000 on the road, and everyone of those 110,000 has a record. It is nothing unusual to see a Buick, which has run from 25,000 up to 100,000 miles and even more. And you never hear of a worn-out Buick.

"started out in my model 17 Buick in six inches of snow on the morning of February 3rd to post some sale bills. I covered 94.4 miles over roads nobody else had traveled since the snow, and was in high every minute, up hill included. I left my motor running all the time I was posting, and used 9½ gallons of gasoline for the trip. I have watched several other makes of cars in the past two years, and every time I have seen a Buick, it has always been doing the work. When a Buick has gone 30,400 miles and still seems as good as new, it is quite enough to convince me that Buicks are built the way they ought to be built."
J. H. GRABER, Portland, Kansas.

The Famous Buick Overhead Valve motor is guaranteed to have more power and more speed than any other type of motor on the market. It will pull stronger on low grade gasoline than any other type of motor ever built and the fuel consumption is less.

ARMED REBELS NEAR BORDER

Douglas, Ariz.—Encamped within striking distance of several border towns, are 8500 constitutionist troops while insurgents among federal garrisons have strengthened materially the rebel forces.

The last word received from the besieged city of Naco was from the telegraph operator, who flashed "too hot for me here," and left his key before all wires between Douglas and Naco were cut.

Open revolt and scenes of disorder have occurred among the 250 federal defenders of Agua Prieta, and the military officials there gave warning to all Americans to leave the town.

The best citizens of Agua Prieta generally fled to Douglas, while the drunken and rebellious soldiers paraded the streets crying "Viva Madero!" "Viva Maytorena!" and "Viva Diaz!" Brawls between politically estranged companions in arms added to the confusion and terror which held the town in its grip.

HILL SCORES DEPARTMENT

Railway Man Says Management of Irrigation Work Stupid.

Charleston, S. C.—Discussing advisability of applying for government aid in drainage work on the south Atlantic coast, James J. Hill, railroad magnate, criticized what he termed the "stupid management" of the department of the interior in federal irrigation work. Mr. Hill's remarks were made in an address before members of a local advertising club.

The speaker declared that government irrigation work cost twice as much as it should have cost and twice as much as the same work would have cost in Canada. Mr. Hill declared as Franklin K. Lane, the new secretary of the interior, is a Canadian by birth, he probably would inaugurate a more economical programme.

Dynamite Cargo Explodes.

Baltimore.—Three hundred tons of dynamite being loaded on the British tramp steamer Alum Chine in the lower harbor, off Fort Carroll, exploded instantly killing 30 men, wounding and maiming three-score more, some of whom may die, and destroying about $300,000 worth of property.

The general theory of the cause of the explosion is that the coal in the vessel's bunkers was set afire by spontaneous combustion and the flames were communicated to the dynamite.

Old-Time Activity Predicted for Famous Silver-Lead Section

Wallace.—The general situation in the Coeur d'Alenes is more promising than at any time since the boom of 1906, and everybody is predicting greater activity the coming summer than ever before.

The big strike recently in the National copper mine at Mullan has injected new life into the situation and residents of that part of the district predict that the property will soon become one of the big producers.

An option at the rate of $125,000 for control of the Snowshoe property, in the Mullan section of the Coeur d'Alene region is being negotiated for.

The Snowshoe is favorably situated with reference to the copper bearing belt penetrated in the Snowshoe and the National and has been opened to great depth by tunnels and other workings.

G. & P. Railroad is Held Liable

Boise.—The supreme court has upheld the judgment of the district court of Lemhi county in the case of Samuel T. Keim against the Gilmore & Pittsburg railroad, wherein a jury awarded the plaintiff $10,000 damages for being injured while upon the platform of the railroad station at Leadore. The accident was one of the most peculiar that has ever happened in the state of Idaho. Keim was walking along the platform to reach a path which was used by the public for general travel, when a moving train, upon which was loaded a steam shovel, passed by. The extending crane of the shovel caught a baggage truck and threw it against Keim, who is 77 years of age. He was badly injured and brought suit against the company for damages.

STATE NAMED 50 YEARS AGO

Plans Under Way for Celebration of Event Next Fall in Boise

Boise.—Fifty years ago the name "Idaho" was given by congress to the new territory and as this is the semi-centennial year, Secretary R. W. Childs of the Boise Commercial club proposes to bring the matter before the proper officials and incorporate in the Rainmakers' festival next fall proper features in commemoration.

On March 3, 1863, congress formally approved the territorial bill then under consideration. As passed in the lower house of congress it provided that the name of the new territory should be Montana, but in the senate objection was offered by one of the members who wanted to substitute "Idaho." An amendment was offered, adopted without comment and approved by the house.

The origin of the name has remained unknown to this day. "Uncle" John Halley, the state historian, has exerted special effort to trace the name to its original source and, while there are several versions of the origin, he believes Idaho was the name of an Arrapahoe Indian girl.

Drainage Act Held Constitutional

Boise.—The supreme court upheld the constitutionality of the drainage district law which was passed by the present legislature last month.
